

EVENT ANNOUNCEMENT

2012 U-M Women of Color Task Force (WCTF) Conference: 30 Years of Leadership, Legacy, and Change

DATE: Friday, March 2nd from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm

EVENT:

The WCTF annual conference is the largest professional development event at the University of Michigan and will take place on Friday, March 2, 2012 from 8:00 to 5:00 pm. This year's keynote speaker will be Dr. Johnnetta B. Cole, director of the Smithsonian Institute's National Museum of African Art. The conference will include thirty six(36) workshop sessions, a networking luncheon, and a vendor marketplace featuring local businesses. The workshop sessions will offer insight in topics such as professional & leadership development, leadership, work-life balance/personal development, and financial education. On average, more than 600 women and men attend the conference.

Dr. Cole is the immediate past president of Bennett College, Greensboro, NC and was the first African American woman to serve as president of Spelman College, Atlanta, GA. The topic of her speech will be "The Business Case for Diversity & Inclusion in American Higher Education."

This event is open to the public, but registration is required. You may register online at www.cew.umich.edu or onsite the morning of the conference.
